Doogee Officially Launches in Fiji – Rugged Tech Built for the Pacific

Suva, Fiji – Global rugged smartphone and tablet brand Doogee has officially launched in Fiji, bringing its tough, high-performance devices to local consumers through the new website www.doogee.com.fj

The launch marks Doogee's continued expansion in the Pacific, offering Fijians direct access to the brand's popular range of rugged smartphones, tablets, and smart accessories – all designed to withstand the region's demanding environments.

Doogee's operations in Fiji are managed by Regional Access Networks Ltd (RAN), ensuring customers receive full local support, warranty services, and fast delivery across the islands.

"Fiji's mix of outdoor work, travel, and tropical conditions means people need technology that can handle it all," said Jim Zhang, from Doogee. "Doogee phones and tablets are built for reliability in tough conditions – and now, with Regional Access Networks managing our local presence, Fijians can enjoy easy access and trusted local support."

The new website features Doogee's popular rugged smartphones and tablets, known for their MIL-STD-810H durability, IP68/IP69K protection, and long battery life. Designed for tradies, adventurers, and anyone needing tech that keeps up, Doogee's range includes:

- S-Series rugged smartphones – for extreme environments
- T-Series tablets – combining toughness with productivity
- Smart accessories – built for durability and outdoor performance

To celebrate the launch, Doogee is offering free shipping nationwide.

"With Doogee now officially available in Fiji, managed by Regional Access Networks, we're strengthening our commitment to the Pacific region," added John Demezieres GM of Regional Access Networks. "Fijians can now buy with confidence knowing they have local service, support, and warranty."
